NOW WHAT?

HERE'S WHAT

Beyond Graduation

A one-day workshop designed for both a student with a disability and family that will give you a head start on creating a plan for a good life after graduation.

HERE'S WHY

As a student, you wonder what will happen once you don't have a school to go to every day. As a parent, you're worried about the next stage of your loved one's life. This workshop will support students to explore their own ideas and possibilities. Families will learn about important tools to get the planning process started and will begin to discuss and discover opportunities they may want to pursue, create or access. (This workshop is a $100 value! But will cost you only $35) Register NOW – spaces are limited.

*"It introduced us to a variety of issues that we should be addressing."
"Sharing experiences is a very good way for us to learn how to handle things."
"It got us moving in the right direction."*
